

JOE

Jumped Higher Than Purley

When the Beal Bill Became a Law.

The Ohio National Guard to be Reorganized.

(Special Correspondence.)
Columbus, O., March 28.—The Beal Local Option bill wriggled through the Senate, Thursday afternoon, and came out materially disfigured. The friends of the bill still insist that they have won a victory, but it is noticeable that in the leaps for joy, the aerial flip-flaps made by Secretary Joe Miller, were decidedly higher than those of Secretary Purley A. Baker.

As originally introduced, the Beal bill was practically a duplicate of the Clark bill of two years ago, and that measure was a duplicate of bills offered and defeated years before. The bill provided for ward local option. Then it was amended to be a municipal local option bill, an election to be held when petitioned for by twenty-five per cent of the electors. Then this provision was amended to require a petition by forty per cent of the electors in the municipality, and the bill reported to the House for passage. Before it was passed, however, there were amendments to the provisions for fines for violating the Sunday closing section which made it practically ineffective.

The bill was given several rounds in the Senate, each committee having done its best to avoid considering it. It finally landed in the Taxation committee, which finally reported it for passage with a number of amendments awaiting it. The first was by Senator Harding, who wanted wholesalers to be given the right, when located in "dry" towns, to sell in wholesale quantities to customers residing outside the municipality. Senator Royer moved to amend this amendment to give them the right to sell in wholesale quantities to private families within the municipality. There the Senate hung up and the bill went to the Judiciary committee. This was on Wednesday.

The Judiciary committee went into executive session at 2 o'clock Thursday and at 2:35 reported it back to the Senate. It then passed by a vote of 32 to 0, with the unamended Harding amendment appended.

The House passed the House Senate bill, providing for the appointment of a commission to enter into the question of passing uniform laws. A large

LOST LAKE

Said to be Fabulously Rich in Coarse Gold.

Prospecting for gold makes husky men even if they don't always find the gold. Sometimes these men can tell interesting tales.

Joseph Morehead, whose headquarters are in Elgin, Ore., writes: "Last fall I came down here, attracted by the rich strikes in the Baker City fields. On my arrival I heard a 'fairy story' of a 'lost lake' in the Blue mountains which was said to be fabulously rich in coarse gold. The story had all the 'ear marks' of the 'lost mine' and 'lost cabin' stories to be heard in every mining district; prospectors driven out by Indians, brought pocket full of nuggets, with him, died and left the customary rough sketch of the locality, etc., etc."

I determined to have a look for it, and as the formation is volcanic it is too rough for pack animals. The problem was how to carry food enough in addition to my pick, pan and blanket, for a two week's sojourn in the mountains.

I had, a short time before, been prospecting with an old mountaineer in the Bitter Root range in Montana. He was an enthusiast on the subject of Grape-Nuts and Postum Coffee. In fact he lived on them. I used to 'josh' him about his 'grub' but soon grew to like it myself and finally got to eating Grape-Nuts three times a day and as much Postum as I got the chance.

So with my former experience in mind I got five packages of Grape-Nuts and same quantity of Postum Coffee, which, with a little sugar and salt were all the supplies I took with me, and for nine days laborious climbing over the roughest country out of doors. I had nothing else except an occasional trout caught from the stream. I came back feeling first-class and am offering to bet that I can average thirty miles a day over mountain trails with thirty pounds of blanket, etc., on nothing but Grape-Nuts."

This food can be digested and will fatten a nursing infant and it also sustains and works wonders with the hardest physical and mental workers, including foot ball and base ball players, athletes of all kinds, editors, doctors, ministers, lawyers, business men and other brain workers.

number of other States have such commissions, the idea being to secure if possible, similar laws in the different States on marriage and divorce, commercial paper, bills of lading and other subjects where different laws are apt to cause confusion.

The Harding Senate bill to reorganize the National Guard, give it increased appropriations and extend the time of annual encampments to 14 days, was passed almost unanimously. The bill makes the National Guard conform in its organization to the regular army.

The Yates bill to stop horse thieving was passed by the House without debate. The bill provides that County Commissioners may reimburse "horse thief associations" $75 for capturing persons convicted of misdemeanors and $100 for criminals. Several errors were discovered in the bill and it was referred to the revision committee for correction.

Longworth bill to punish the tapping of electric wires or injury to them in any way, by a heavy fine or imprisonment in the penitentiary, was lost. The bill to regulate the practice of osteopathy came up in the House for consideration but some of the members were not ready to take the matter up and it was made a special order for Friday.

JEALOUSY

Caused Horsewhipping of State Official in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O., March 28.—James Richardson, superintendent for the State free employment bureau, was publicly horsewhipped in his office here yesterday by Mrs. Hattie Scofield, who claims that for four years, and until recently, Richardson had been devoted to her and her child of 20 months.

She had arranged a trip to Chicago, and sent word to Richardson to come to see her before she left. He did not come, but sent a young woman to say that he was better employed. This enraged Mrs. Scofield, and, buying a rawhide whip, she went to Richardson's office, which was crowded with men and women, and vigorously applied the whip to him. Both were arrested and released on bond.

Richardson's lady stenographer, it is claimed by Mrs. Scofield, is the cause of the incident, but she denies Mrs. Scofield's jealousy charges.

Mrs. Scofield, who is a widow, claims Richardson promised to marry her.

BREATHING SPOTS

Made Ready For the Coming of Summer.

The City Commissioners have taken their annual task in hand of cleaning up the parks, and by the time the spring has just a little advance and trees and grass grow green, they bid fair to be more lovely and enjoyable than ever. A large gang of workmen have been set to work straightening out the walks, smoothing the rough barren places with sod, and raking the lawns clean. At Union park the fountain has been set running again and is witnessed by many people who pass.

DON'T FAIL TO GET ONE.

The Easter number of the "Pittsburg Post" next Sunday will be a model of journalistic achievement. There will be a large number of specially written stories and able articles on a great variety of topics, just the kind and class that will appeal to every member of the family. The illustrations will be as fine as those found in the high priced periodicals. The half-tone magazine will contain SIXTEEN PAGES; the pictures will be reproductions from famous paintings having a special reference to the Easter season.

The articles will deal with the Easter season, frolics of the old days, the observance of the day in many lands, and at different periods. There will be a large number of other articles on timely topics. The children's page will please the little ones, the fashion page, with the Paris and New York letters will appeal to women, while other articles and departments will be of interest to the men. Among the many good things that will appear it is hard to select any one particular subject. It may be said, however, that a new serial story will start, and it will be a splendid one, chock full of action and just the kind that will please. Notify your newsdealer at once.

NO QUESTION as to price—for the price is RIGHT. But there's quality, style, fit and choice of patterns to consider. For it is on these that the high-priced old-fashioned tailor lays claim to your patronage. As to quality and choice of patterns—we have undressed worsteds, serges, chevots, Bannockburns, crash for outing wear, homespun, a thousand patterns to choose from. Exclusive weaves from our own looms are shown side by side with the products of old England's most famous mills. We pride ourselves particularly on our own products. Our pride is pardonable, for our success as weavers and tailors has been phenomenal. As to style, we portray the newest, the most unique—not neglecting the sober conservatism of grays and blacks for business wear. As to fit—we offer you the services of an organization of artist tailors, expert cutters—men who mold clothes to your form.

In conclusion, we deserve your patronage. We have all any tailor can give you at any price—an l more. Union made clothing, pressed and tailored free for one year. Complete satisfaction or no sale.
